A New Standard

Symmetric provides sampling services to companies that place a very high value on representative samples, scientific sampling methods, and advanced fraud-detection systems. Symmetric applies advanced technology and sophisticated systems to create and manage some of the best online panels in the world.

From its origins in 1996, Symmetric's suite of online panels has expanded to include American Consumer Opinion® and five B2B panels. All are carefully balanced, continually refreshed, and systematically cleaned via high-tech and low-tech methods. Nonresponders, speedsters, and cheaters are continually purged.

In addition to its worldwide panels, Symmetric can supplement its samples by drawing participants from hundreds of other sampling sources, using the Icion® sampling platform. All samples are vetted by Symmetric's Sleuth™ fraud detection systems. Multivariate, stratified sampling controls and random selection of participants within each cell help ensure that each sample is as representative as possible.

Sample is available in more than 200 countries and territories. Languages supported are English, Dutch, French, German, Italian, Japanese, Portuguese, Russian, Spanish, Simplified Chinese, and Traditional Chinese.

American Consumer Opinion® is a worldwide online panel that reaches millions of consumers in the United States, Canada, Latin America, Europe, and Asia.

Consumers can sign up to become members in one of 11 languages. Complete demographic profiles are maintained for each household.

Why Use Symmetric Samples?

- Our precisely managed, double opt-in panels are white-listed by most of the world's major Internet service providers, so no sample distortion is caused by spam-filtering systems.
- Panel members are fairly paid for completing surveys: the longer the survey, the greater the cash incentive. Therefore, surveys can be longer and more detailed than telephone or mail-intercept surveys.
- Members' privacy, confidentiality, and anonymity are always protected.
- The usage of panel members is monitored and limited. The average panelist participates in only two studies/month.
- An online help desk provides "live" assistance to respondents during surveys.
- All nonresponders, "speedsters," and nonserious panelists are systematically removed from the panels.
- All survey participants are screened via the Sleuth™ fraud-detection system.
- We have all panelist PII, which enables us to do iHUT and qualitative recruitment.
- New panelists are constantly added to keep each panel fresh.
- We have the highest recontact rates in the industry.
- Recruiting goals are adjusted monthly to keep the panels balanced and representative.
- All panel partners and sources go through a quality assurance process to ensure only the best samples are used on your projects.
- Executive team members average 15 years experience in the industry.

How Are Our Panels Recruited?

Panels are recruited by a combination of online and offline methods (telephone, mail, SEO, SEM, banner advertising, online content advertising, social media marketing, mobile advertising, email, print advertising, and publicity). The goal is to make each panel as representative of its target population as possible.

Icion® Sampling

Icion® is an advanced, multivariate sampling system designed and programmed by Symmetric. The system automatically pulls probability samples representative of a survey's target population or target audience, simultaneously balanced by geography, gender, age, income, and other variables.

Icion® is also an engine to bring sample in from many different sources and to balance and integrate those samples into a probability sample representative of target populations. Different sources of sample can be comingled and combined to create more random and more representative samples. All samples flow in through the Sleuth™ fraud-detection system to screen out duplications and questionable respondents.

Sleuth™

Sleuth is an active fraud-detection system that works in parallel with Icion® (the sampling system). Sleuth™ searches for evidence of cheating or fraud on the part of potential survey participants, based on:

- Duplicated Surveys. Digital fingerprinting is used to eliminate duplicate surveys by the same respondent.
- Risky Transmission Control Protocol/Internet Protocol (TCP/IP) Addresses. All TCP/IP addresses are monitored for irregularities, and those deemed at "high risk" of fraudulent behavior are blocked from participating in surveys.
- Geolocation Verification. The location of the TCP/IP address is checked against target geographic areas to verify compliance with sampling specifications.
- Anonymous Proxies. If the identity of a person coming into a survey is hidden by routing through an anonymous proxy server, that person is blocked from participating in the survey.
